Breaking Ground for the New Employee Relations, Personnel Building

The ground was broken a few weeks ago at Marshall Street for the construction of the new building which will house the Employee Relations and Personnel Departments.

Originally only the Personnel Department was in the Employment Office at Beaver Street until three years ago, the Employee Relations Department was set up in the building. Since both Departments have expanded considerably since that time, the Employment Office is no longer large enough to fit their needs.

The new building will be built between the Gatehouse and Building 12 with its main entrance on Marshall Street. The Personnel Department will occupy the first floor while the Employee Relations Department will be on the second.

Berkshire Community Symphony Orchestra

The Berkshire Orchestra this season is made up of the largest group of musicians since the Orchestra was started in 1946. Mr. Irwin Shainman, assistant professor of music at Williams College, will succeed Mr. Joaquin Nin-Culmell as Music Director and Conductor of the Orchestra.

Mr. Shainman comes well-trained to assume the leadership of the Orchestra. He has studied the trumpet since 1930 and as a professional trumpeter performed with many of the leading orchestras in and around New York City, which led to his being awarded a New York Philharmonic trumpet scholarship. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree at Pomona College in California after which he attended Columbia University for his Master of Arts degree. Mr. Shainman went to Paris, France where he studied at the Paris Conservatory. There he was awarded a coveted "Premiere Prix" and studied conducting with Eugene Bigot.

The first concert of the Orchestra, which will be presented in the latter part of November or early December, at Chapin Hall in Williamstown, will include works by Mozart, Bizet and others.

ARMY POINT SYSTEM FOR RESERVISTS

Reservists are requested to notify the Personnel Office immediately if they are recalled into the Service of the United States:

The various branches of the service now guarantee each reservist that he will be allowed considerable time before he is called to report for active duty. It is their intention to prevent the calling of men who should be deferred because of job dependencies or physical reasons.

It is requested that reservists notify the Personnel Office immediately in case of recall to service, so that we can help him compile the necessary data to support his recall classification and have the up-to-date data ready to submit to the appropriate service.

It is indicated that the Army point or credit system will apply to those reservists who are recalled. Those with the highest point score, it is anticipated will be the last to be recalled.

The Army has also stated that they will not recall any reservist who has four or more dependents. The Army point system does not apply to Army officer personnel.

The Army points of service credits for reservists are awarded on the following basis:

1. For active service—one service credit for each three months of active Federal service or portion thereof.
2. For overseas service—one service credit for each three months of active Federal service or portion thereof which was served outside the continental limits of the United States. These credits are in addition to those authorized in (1).
3. For Reserve service—one service credit for each year, or portion thereof amounting to six months or more, of service as a member of the Organized Reserve Corps or National Guard not on active duty.
4. For age—one service credit for each year of age over 20.
5. For combat awards—two service credits for each of the following awards made by the Army or

Navy:

Medal of Honor
DSC
Navy Cross
DFC
Silver Star
Bronze Star Medal
Purple Heart

Service credits for other awards or decorations are not authorized.

6. For dependents—eight service credits for each dependent. In general, dependents include the lawful wife, unmarried legitimate children under 21 years of age including stepchildren and adopted children, and the soldier's mother or father when he or she is dependent on the soldier for over half of his or her support. Service credit for dependents is not authorized for brothers, sisters, in-laws, or other relatives.

At the present time these policies are general for the various services, however, it must be realized that any serious change in our defense plans for the United States would undoubtedly tighten up the recall procedure.

PARKING

In the Beaver Street parking lot, do not park in spaces which are numbered unless you hold the corresponding number.

When parking your car in any of the Sprague parking lots, park as close to the next car as possible. This will leave room for more cars.

ARE YOU SAVING

THE EASY WAY?

WITH THE

PAYROLL SAVINGS PLAN

ARE YOU DEPRIVING YOURSELF?

Waste Deprives Your Neighbor, Your Son Serving Your Country And You Of Vital Materials

By January 1, 1951, it is expected that only 65% of the metals aluminum, copper, nickel, cobalt and zinc will be available for production of goods for civilian use. This will mean that almost every industry will in some way be affected. In a great many of the items which we use every day, such as pots and pans, automobiles and radios, there is at least one of these metals represented.

The first reaction of a lot of people will be to go and purchase an excess of amount of the goods which they think will be scarce. This, of course, will make the 35% cut seem even harsher. Think before you rush out and buy materials which you do not need at present or in the immediate future.

We can help the situation and ourselves by being more careful. Don't waste anything. If an article breaks, fix it, don't rush out and replace it expecting to mend the original article sometime when you get around to it. You know that once an item is put in the attic or the hall closet, it will collect dust for years. Don't throw away that leftover strip of chrome or a few nails, save them, the time will come when you can use them instead of having to purchase new ones.

Make old things last a little longer even though the new models look more inviting. As long as an article gives good service, that is all that is necessary.

Be careful in the production of goods, if we waste 5% on production through carelessness and inefficiency, that means a 40% cut of consumer materials. An extra few minutes might make the difference between a perfect or a defected finished product. Some person who is badly in need of an item which they can not get because of material restrictions, might have it if you put in the time to make each item perfect. Think a minute, the person needing the item might be you.

Not only will a few extra minutes in the production of materials save waste, but we can help by keeping our working conditions clean. Don't make fire hazards. After your coffee, throw the cup into the rubbish container. When it is time to go home, don't just leave those oily rags where they may fall, put them in the correct place so they will be disposed of properly. Make sure your cigarettes are out, an innocent little spark could cause a tremendous amount of waste. Remember this waste is not only going to affect the other person, it is going to also affect you.

If you are working on the job with someone, work together not against him. Trying to show up the other fellow or hinder his work means inefficient production and inefficiency causes waste.

Before we start complaining because something which we want is not on the store shelf, let's remember why it is not there. The Government is cutting the use of aluminum, cobalt, copper, nickel and zinc in the production of consumer goods so that these materials may be used in the manufacture of defense materials. If Johnny is defending our country, he can not do it without equipment; he needs guns and tanks. There is not enough material to manufacture goods for both civilian and military use so, of course, we all expect and want the metals to be used where they are most vitally needed.

At the present time, the most vitally needed use is in making equipment for the defense of our country.

Let's all do our share to prevent waste of scarce materials. Be efficient, careful and think before throwing something away. Remember, through waste, you are depriving your neighbor, your son serving your country, and you.

Annual Children's Christmas Party

The ICW No. 2 will hold its annual children's Christmas party on Saturday, December 16 at the Paramount and Richmond Theaters in North Adams. These theaters, for the second year, have been made available to the Union without charge through the generosity of Mr. Frances J. Faille, Manager of the Paramount and Richmond Theaters. Much of the credit for the success of these annual parties should go to Mr. Faille.

Santa, of course, will be on hand to distribute gifts to all of the children of Sprague employees between the ages of five and twelve. There will be movies and singing and we anticipate a good time for all.

The ICW No. 2 Committee under the chairmanship of Maude Waska includes William Currant, Ann Downey, Jennie Marceau and Bernard Fitzpatrick.

Edmund Dupuis Appears on Television

In the middle of March, 1950, Eddy Dupuis, who has been tap dancing since he was five years old appeared on the talent show at the Paramount Theater which was held under the auspices of the local radio station, WNAW. About three weeks later, Eddy went to Schenectady to make his first appearance on the "Teen Age Barn", a television show on Station WRGB every Friday night from 9:30 'til 10:00 o'clock. Between eight and twelve teenagers are on the amateur show every week.

Eddy was graduated from Drury High School in June of 1950 and is now employed in the Mica Department at Brown Street. He enjoys appearing on the television show and likes the people who are connected with "Teen Age Barn." Tap dancing with Eddy, however, is only a side interest and he does not plan to do anything with his dancing professionally.

"Gas Again, Lady!"

Jimmy, who had been climbing trees, came in for the second time with his trousers torn.

"Go upstairs and mend them yourself," ordered his harassed mother.

Some time later, she went upstairs. The trousers were there, but no Jimmy.

Puzzled, she came downstairs and noted that the cellar door was open. She called down loudly and angrily: "Are you running about down there without your trousers on?"

Came the startled reply: "No, madam, I'm reading the gas meter."

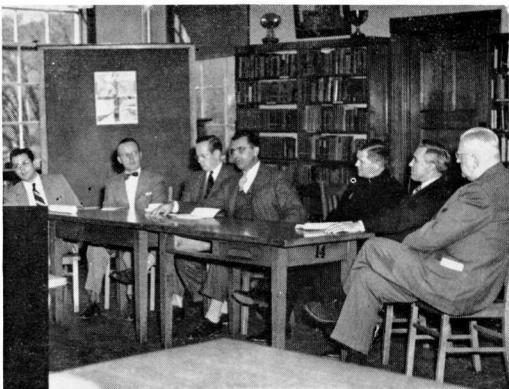

"You owe me two installments on that watch," said the jeweler severely.

"That's all right," asserted the customer. "It's two months slow already."

Just a little bit out of season but this is a picture of Art Van Steenburg taken at the Supervisors' Picnic at Lake Shaftsbury. Art works in the Molded Tubular Finish Department. Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Mazza who were married in August. Mrs. Mazza works in the F. M. Department is the former Aileen Riel and Mr. Mazza is employed in Automatic Rolling. Joe DelDebbio from the Marshall Street Stockroom who was a spectator at a Yankee, Red Sox game. Mrs. Fay Stokes, sister of Shirley Booth who works in the Block Annex Department at Beaver Street. JoAnn Mancuso, sister of Carmela Mancuso of P.A.A. Rolling.

E-B-I DAY AT LOCAL SCHOOLS

On November 9, 1950 representatives from industry and business visited the schools in North Adams to gain an insight into modern education.

Small groups toured the different schools and sat in classrooms while actual lessons were being taught. After the tour, a panel discussion was held in the library of Drury High School. The educators and businessmen discussed problems confronting teachers and the relation of education to business and industry.

The representatives from Sprague Electric Company, Mr. John D. Washburn, Mr. C. W. Flanders, Mr. Robert C. Sprague, Jr., Mr. J. G. P. Milne and Mr. C. C. Chaffee all agreed that the E-B-I Day was a progressive link in drawing together education, business and industry.

Births

DAUGHTER to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley L. Sanecki on November 5. Mr. Sanecki is employed in the Formation Department while Mrs. Sanecki works on the Miscellaneous Paper Assembly.

Dear Editor:

One feature of the LOG that interests me is the picture corner. Instead of devoting it to children alone, I think it would be nice to accept any unusual or interesting pose of employees. The LOG has a number of articles about sports in each issue, so why not something for camera fans?

• We would like to hear from more people on this subject—Ed.

Dorothy Belanger celebrates her third wedding anniversary on November fifteenth. Congratulations Dot from all of us.

Sis Vadnais' son, Mark, will be four years old on November fifteenth and Barbara King's son, Vinny, will be four on Thanksgiving Day.

The weekly bowling is still continuing with 103 high single still to be beaten. Sis Vadnais and Lucille Matranga are tied. Barb King has the high triple so far with a 269. A new bowler to join us recently is Teresa Deso.

Mario Magnani is now the proud owner of a Collie puppy which he has named, Smoky.

Our welcome is extended to two new girls in our department. They are Mildred Bishop and Doris Cardinal. We hope you like working with us.

Patricia Donovan celebrated her twenty-second birthday recently. She received birthday greetings from all the gang in the department.

Formation

Silas Kimball shot a 200 pound, 8 point buck in Petersburg, New York.

Others trying their luck in Vermont and New York are Pat Bemis and George Senecal.

All with pump shotguns and awaiting the opening day of deer season in Massachusetts are William Davis, Val Pinsonnault, George Perras, Joe Letallen and Bish Goyette.

In a recent survey on hobbies of different people in our department, we found that Adam Pevoski has purchased a lot and is making plans for a new house; Bob Hamilton does repair work on radios and television sets; Val Pinsonnault is manager of a semi-pro football team; and Bill Davis is an amateur plumber.

Miscellaneous DrysBy Ceil Risch

A get well wish for all our invalids. Agnes Davis is recuperating from her operation. Hope to see you soon Scotty.

We also hope the best for Betty Fletcher who recently had an operation.

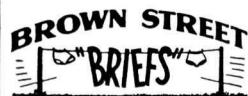

Our latest invalid, Vi Dempsey, we hope will soon be well.

We also hope to see Dot Royal and Mary Ziaja back from their siege of virus.

Welcome to our new testers and hope you will enjoy working with us, Virginia Morin and Helen Cole.

Helen Cole took her initiation like an old trouper. You're a good sport, Helen.

What do you think of a girl who puts up storm windows on her vacation. You'd look rested though, Dot Osborne.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dickinson celebrated their nineteenth wedding anniversary November 14. Congratulations.

Anne Loomis has finally moved to Williamson but she claims it is no fun to move and settle a house.

Helen Foote's brother, Danny, recently visited and kept his sister busy cooking all day.

With Thanksgiving Day here, we again may be thankful for the many privileges we enjoy as American citizens.

Don't be afraid to do a kindness too soon, you never know how soon it may be too late.

Albert Jangrow shot a deer first thing on the opening day of the season. The Jangrows are all excited because of a wedding they are going to on Saturday. Their only son will say his "I do's". Loree is employed in the Sample Lab at Brown Street.

Molded TubularsBy Two Eyelets

Several of the eyelet girls attended a Halloween party given by Florence Germain at her home and a very enjoyable evening was had by all. Stories were told, games played and prizes were won by Winnie Knowles, Millie Canino, Bert Jones, Erma Allen, Gladys Kirkpatrick, Beatrice Simms and Mollie Williams. A delicious lunch was served and we hope we can make this an annual party.

We are very happy to have Hazel Lillie with us again after an absence of several weeks due to sickness.

The boys in the department are all sporting new haircuts. They thought they should take advantage of the situation before prices increased.

Wedding bells will be ringing soon in our department. Irene Simon is wearing a beautiful diamond.

Frances Davis' son proved a valuable asset for the Crusader's football team. Sonny made that now famous touchdown.

Jean Wheeler's husband is due to enter the Service of the United States on December 5. We all wish Bill the best of luck.

Lillian Thomas held a birthday party for her daughter, Sandra, recently. The twenty little girls who were invited all had a wonderful time.

Jeanette Andrews, one of our girls, is at Plunkett Memorial Hospital recovering from an operation. Hurry and get well, Jeanette, we all miss those lovely songs you sang for us.

Margaret Kryston entertained a group of eyelet girls in her new home and everyone had a good time.

Birthday greetings this month go to Ethel McLagen, Peggie Daub, Margaret Kryston, Mary Blair, Winnie Knowles, Helen Baxter and Doris Simon.

AC Dry Assembly and Centrifuge

By J. Harrington and H. Embry

Rose Cantoni enjoyed a one-week vacation in Springfield. She also entertained company from Waterbury, Connecticut over the weekend.

Doris Grinka is enjoying a two-week vacation deer hunting. We all wish her a lot of luck and are anticipating a venison steak dinner.

We all miss Ann Moor, our former desk clerk and welcome Mrs. Marion Beattie who is taking her place. We also welcome back Oliver O'Dell who has been sick for the past month.

Congratulations, to Marion Dupree who is now housekeeping in her own home, to Grace Scarfone who has finally settled in her new home in Greylock and to Harry Embry, Jr. who was married on October 18.

Margaret Anderson had an early Thanksgiving dinner for her son and daughter who were visiting from Boston.

Jennie Marceau who is training to be a great concert pianist is now playing "London Bridge is Falling Down."

The A.C. Department will soon be known as the diamond department — Doogie, Mickie and Kenny have all displayed engagement rings in the past two weeks, wonder who will be next.

We all extend our sympathy to Lil Colon on the death of her father.

Florence Lincoln tried to keep her birthday a secret but we did find out, so Happy Birthday from the gang.

We have three new girls in the department, Annie Maroni, Nellie Cavanaugh and Alice Martin. We hope you will enjoy working with us.

Ruth Arrighini is now back testing and she feels right at home.

Velma Lincoln who was testing has been made a supervisor and hopes everyone will enjoy working with her. Mildred Sniezek, our clerk, needs some kind of heater near her desk. She is not just cold, she thinks she is an icicle.

Betty Fleury's on the move. Right now she is almost out in the middle of the room. She knows she is going somewhere, but where?

What is this we hear about Ann Downey getting fan mail from Milwaukee, Wisconsin? You can't fool Ann, though, she wrote back and told him he had better let his mother write her.

Can Shop and PlatingBy Cliff

Welcome back Jim Scarbo and Zig Zawelski of Plating.

We are sorry to hear that Pink Sherman's son Biff broke his arm again and we wish him a speedy recovery.

Ted Dziolek can't wait until December 4 for his vacation so he can go deer hunting. Yours truly is also eager to train for a deer.

Donald Kleiner will be glad to test any cigarette once.

We are glad to see Ray Chalifoux driving his car again. Wonder what happened for three months.

Al Lanoue has a big smile now that Osborne Edwards is our steady sweeper. We will miss your sweeping, Al.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of Howard Davis, please notify us.

We of the Can Shop extend our sympathy to Frank Morandi on the death of his brother-in-law.

Getting Even

A general and colonel were walking down the street. They met many privates and each time the colonel would salute he would mutter, "The same to you."

The general's curiosity soon got the better of him, and he asked: "Why do you always say that?"

The colonel answered: "I was once a private and I know what they are thinking."

Stephen, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Zwiercan. The mother was formerly a Dry Roller. One-year old son of Rita Morehouse of Retail Sales and William Morehouse of Paper Rolling. Linda and Kathleen Jean Sharron, daughters of Anne of F. P. Drys Night Shift and Eddie of the Marshall Street Formation. Linwood Bailey, son of Helen (Marge) Bailey of the P.A.A. Waxing Department at Brown Street. Nelson Raymond Brouillet, son of Mildred of M.P.A. and Raymond of the Impregnating Department at Brown Street.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL

Western Massachusetts:

Holyoke is, at this writing, the top high school team in Western Massachusetts. The Paper Town team has yet to meet defeat in 7 games and should hurdle its last obstacle when they meet the "Greenies" from Greenfield in a postponed game.

Northern Berkshire:

The curtain has come down on another season with Drury High School proudly sporting the championship crown.

Pittsfield St. Joseph completed Pittsfield's most disastrous season in its entire history by coming from behind to win 14-12.

As was the case all season long, "The Purple" scored first and led at the half 6-0.

However, in the third quarter the Parochial lads found themselves and unleashed an offensive that was stopped only after the pigskin had been planted over the goal line. With the score tied the conversion was good and St. Joseph was ahead 7-6.

Early in the final period the St. Joseph eleven struck again for the clincher. Once again the point after was successful and the score was now 14-6. The "Foxes" then began a desperate drive to score again but once more the important point after failed.

In the short time remaining, the Parochial eleven clung tenaciously to their slender lead and when the final gun sounded a hilarious celebration by Pittsfield St. Joseph rooters was underway.

It was a deserving win and culminated in a most successful season for the Parochial team. Their sole defeat was inflicted by Drury and this by only 1 point. On the other hand Coach Art Fox's boys dropped every encounter.

DID YOU KNOW?

—That for every 24 manufacturing companies in this country, only one is so "big" that it employs more than 250 persons? And that the records show that "big" companies are the best customers the little companies have?

—That 20 years ago one hard-working farm employee raised only enough to feed 12 persons? Today, with more labor-saving machinery, he works fewer hours and feeds 18.6 persons.

WILLIAMS COLLEGE SPORTS

WILLIAMS WINS

"LITTLE THREE CROWN" WITH CONVINCING 27-13 VICTORY OVER AMHERST

After spotting Amherst an early first quarter score, the "Ephmen" surged back to register three quick touchdowns to lead at the half 20-7.

Both rivals put on spirited drives in the last half to score but the lead built up in the second quarter by the "Purple" put the game in the proverbial "Satchel".

Some 8,000 fans saw Captain Pete Delisser play the best and last game of his college career. "Little Pete" did everything right. He ran well to score three touchdowns and passed and directed his team play in stellar fashion.

A great comeback was seen made by Joe Ferri, Williams Back who has been plagued by injuries all season long. He highlighted his comeback with a dazzling touchdown run that was similar to one he accomplished against Wesleyan a week before.

In closing the Williams football season let us take this space to add our congratulations to the entire team, the coaching staff and to all who made this year one of the best made by a Williams team in many years.

Remember fans, it takes complete team work to post such an enviable record that was compiled by the "Ephmen."

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Although the "Yearlings" did not win over any of the "Little Three" rivals they certainly gave both real battles. Amherst downed the Purple by the score of 13 to 6.

SOCER

Coach Chaffee's booters were downed by Amherst, defending New England intercollegiate champs, 2-1. Once again the Purple scored early but were edged out in the third period. This was one of the best games seen in Amherst this season. As stated in previous issues, the games lost by the Purple were extremely close and 2-1 either way was the pattern throughout the season.

Well the Williams Booters are one leg up on the "Little Three Crown" with a 2-0 white wash over Wesleyan. Or was that score 2-1. We have two versions on this game. However, the win is the important thing.

Cross Country:

The Williams lads came in eleventh in the New England Cross Country collegiate meet and Russ Mahoney, a local boy, running for Vermont University came in third in a field of 24.

The Williams "Harriers" lost to Wesleyan in the "Tri-Meet" with "Little Three Rivals"—Wesleyan was first, Williams, second and Amherst third. However, Delaney of Williams took top honors in the meet by finishing first.

National League Hockey

In the National League Hockey Race the Toronto "Maple Leafs" are still setting a merry pace with the veteran goalie "Turk" Broda off to a flying start with some nifty goal tending. Many fans thought that Broda was finished but up to this date his net-minding is just about tops for the league.

Detroit, Montreal and Chicago are getting better as the season moves along and will give the "Leafs" all they can handle before this season is many more weeks old.

In the American Hockey League, the Springfield Indians are in third spot in the Eastern Division. All home games are played in the Coliseum in West Springfield. For some mighty fine hockey take in one of these torrid battles on the ice in Springfield.

Basketball

High School:

Yes—siree—the seasons move right along. High schools have already begun basketball practice and another spine-tingling season looms just ahead.

Williamstown will be quite strong this season and Coach "Mickey" Smith's boys have some score to settle with other teams in the league.

Drury has a fine nucleus to build around and should floor a good starting five—reserves may tell the story here.

Adams is in about the same boat but decidedly weaker than a year ago. But why attempt to forecast when we will probably have to swallow all early season predictions.

Pittsfield and Dalton have unknown strength.

Both Pittsfield St. Joseph and the local St. Joseph will have good clubs.

If we were to stick our chin out and try to pick a winner—this early—we would say Pittsfield St. Joseph or Drury to cop the bunting.

However, before the actual start of league play, the teams will play a number of exhibitions and from this some idea of the various teams strength will be seen.

LIMITS CAN BE WASTEFUL

A forest once caught fire near the boundary of a state. Volunteers went into action to put it out. However, as soon as the fire crossed the state line, they stopped. "Let the other state take care of it", they said. Waste and hard feelings were the result.

Such an attitude on any job leads to the same result, especially in an emergency. No one expects us to do the other fellow's work for him. But every job goes better when we give more attention to the thing to be done than to the exact limits of our effort.

Oil rollers are waging a merry battle for the top position. The Alley Cats are not too far behind, with the Beaverettes and Independents right behind.

ANY MORE QUESTIONS?

Q. Does the Panama Canal run east and west, or north and south?
 A. North and south.
 Q. What is the largest U. S. industry?
 A. The food industry. Even before the war, one out of every four U. S. workers worked in it—on farms, in factories, in stores.
